Prepare a list of courses you want to take.

You may not be sure about all your requirements, but make a practical schedule. Then you and your advisor can discuss your choices and other operations. Make a list of questions to ask your advisor.

Bring your course sequence sheet.

Also, bring a curriculum pattern sheet, an unofficial transcript, and anything else you think your advisor might need to assist you with the registration process.

Make and keep your appointment.

Faculty and staff keep very busy schedules. Your appointment is for your benefit. Take advantage of this time to discuss your specific situation with your advisor.

Be honest!

If you are having academic difficulty, your advisor can direct you to the proper support service office or suggest alternatives from which you may choose.

Expectation of Academic Advisement Session for Registration

- To have access to academic advisors in accordance with their posted hours and/or special appointments.
- To have academic advisors to help make informed academic decisions as they relate to course selection and degree program requirements.
- To have academic advisors to clarify advisement, registration and enrollment procedures.
- To have academic advisors assist with making choices to achieve your academic goals.

Important Dates

- July 7, 2010—New Student Registration
- July 10, 12, 13, 2010—Late Registration/Drop/Add
- July 10, 2010—Classes begin (Weekend)
- July 12, 2010—Classes begin (M/W)
- July 13, 2010—Classes begin (T/Th)
- July 17, 2010—Graduation
- September 4—No weekend classes
- September 6—Holiday/Labor Day
- September 16—Classes End (T/TH)
- September 18—Classes End (weekend)
- September 20—Classes End (M/W)
- September 21 – Oct. 1—Holidays

Summer Quarter 2010